

PIONEER HALL NAME GIVEN TO NEW MUSEUM

DIRECTORS SPEND TUESDAY IN CONFERRING HERE.

Money Raising Campaign to be Pushed and Construction Start in September is the Plan.

"Pioneer Hall" was selected Tuesday as the name of the new museum building of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. The site will be the southwest corner section of the College campus, and work on the building will start soon after the first of September as possible.

The directors of the Society, who were in session for several hours decided to push the work of collecting the money which was subscribed last year through the work of L. F. Sheffy, who was authorized to continue with this work until the full $25,000 has been subscribed in order to meet the appropriation made by the legislature and approved by Governor Sterling.

Directors present Tuesday were: T. D. Hobart, of Pampa, president; H. E. Hoover, of Canadian, chairman of the building committee; W. H. Patrick of Clarendon; Horace M. Russell of Amarillo; J. A. Hill of Canyon. L. F. Sheffy, Miss Tennessee Malone, Clyde W. Warwick of Canyon, and W. T. Wilks of Pampa attended the meeting with the directors.

The resignation of Mrs. T. V. Reeves, secretary, was accepted, and resolutions were adopted thanking her for her most efficient labors.

The annual edition of the magazine will be published, under the guarantee of Mr. Hoover, Mr. Hobart, Mr. Russell and Henry Ansley. L. F. Sheffy will edit the edition.

Mr. Hill announced that the Board of Regents had appointed John E. Hill of Amarillo and Fred Martin of Fort Worth to co-operate with the directors of the association in making plans for the building, and supervising its construction.

Mr. Sheffy reported that nearly $16,000 has been subscribed which he believed could be collected at once. Notices will be sent to all subscribers, urging immediate payment. Many people in various parts of the Plains have indicated a willingness to make donations to the buildings, but no amounts were reported by Mr. Sheffy excepting those which he considered certain to be paid promptly.

Resolutions of respect were adopted by the directors in memory of Judge L. S. Kinder of Plainview, a member of the Society who recently died.

Mr. Hill announced that J. Evetts Haley will be here Friday of this week and at that time they will try to make arrangements whereby he may continue in the capacity of field secretary. Mr. Haley is largely responsible for the large collection which is found in the museum of the Society.

Resolutions were adopted thanking Clyde W. Warwick, Senator Clint C. Small, Governor Sterling and others who worked for the appropriation for the building.

As spokesman for the directors, Judge Hoover made a most enthusiastic review of the work which has been accomplished by the members of the Society. He stated that it was the dream of his life for the pioneers to have erected this museum building in which would be gathered an authentic history of the early history of this section. He believed that now that the people knew that the state had made this appropriation that the balance of the money would be readily subscribed. He was exceedingly anxious that work start on the building.

Traffic Count on Amarillo Highway Made This Week

A count on the highway traffic between Canyon and Amarillo has been conducted by the State Highway Department this week. P. S. Bailey, division engineer, stated this morning that the count was completed Wednesday, but that figures would not be available before sometime Friday.

Mr. Bailey also stated that it was expected that all the highway work on the road from Canyon to the Deaf Smith county line would be completed by July 1. A part of the road has been opened to traffic for several days.

County Agent is Gathering Samples For Fall Exhibits

County Agent W. H. Upchurch is spending this week in the harvest fields over the entire county gathering grain samples to make up his exhibit of Randall county products to be displayed at the various fairs this fall.

Mr. Upchurch urges that all those who have splendid samples of wheat, oats, rye or barley to get in touch with him to aid in getting up a splendid exhibit. Because of the wide publicity he has received in the past as an exhibitor he shall need all the co-operation he can get in order to place an exhibit on display which will win first place. Other county agents are working hard to stop his streak of winnings at the Tri-State Fair.

Any co-operation in securing good samples will be greatly appreciated. Information may be left with Mr. Upchurch, or with Fred E. Wortham, new Chamber of Commerce secretary who will be in the county agent's office beginning some time next week.

Former Buff is Elected Coach at Bryan College

O. P. Herm, former Buffalo basketball, tennis and football player has just been elected as athletic coach at Bryan Memorial University at Dayton, Tennessee, and will assume his duties August 15.

While attending West Texas, Herm played at guard on the Buffalo basketball team, and his last year was named as all conference guard. In football he first played at halfback, but in his senior year was shifted to quarterback, and also served as captain of the team, and was named as all conference halfback his last year in school.

Since graduation Herm has coached at Olney and Panhandle, Texas. Last year he taught commercial subjects at Denison, Texas. But the call of the football field and gymnasium was too strong and he is returning to the coaching game.

Catch Chicken Thief in Canyon Saturday Morning

R. L. Childress, a self-confessed chicken thief, who claimed to work out of Amarillo, lived in Clovis, stole chickens in Armstrong county, drove a car with an Arkansas license plate was arrested by Frank Hicks and A. C. Donnell Saturday morning when he attempted to sell some of the chickens he had stolen to the City Produce house.

When the man offered to sell the chickens, he aroused the suspicions of R. L. Campbell, who notified the officers. Later Childress confessed to the theft when questioned by County Attorney J. D. Barker. He had 27 chickens in his car when arrested. The car is being held by local authorities pending investigation of its ownership.

Sunday afternoon the man was turned over to the Armstrong county officers who carried him to Claude.

T. & P. Route is Recommended Only For South End

Recommendations were presented Wednesday to the Interstate Commerce Commission by Examiner Weed, that it permit the Texas and Pacific Northern Railway Company to construct 126 miles of railroad in the Panhandle section of Texas.

The examiner recommended the construction of only 126 miles of the proposed 333 miles of lines by the Texas & Pacific Northern. The line of 80 miles from Big Spring to Brownfield and 46 miles from Lubbock Junction to Lubbock, received the approval of the examiner in his report.

He recommended that the commission disapprove of the construction of about 207 miles of additional line to operate from Brownfield to a point two miles beyond Vega and from Dimmitt to Amarillo.

REEDS NAMED HEAD COACH IN OKLAHOMA

BUFFALO MENTOR SELECTED TO SUCCEED WANTLAND.

Ten Members of Faculty at Central Teachers College Dropped; Reeds Hasn't Accepted.

Coach Claude Reeds, who has coached football at West Texas State Teachers College for the past two years, was elected head coach of the Oklahoma Central Teachers College, Edmond, Oklahoma, Friday by the Board of Regents of that institution. This action came as a result of a general shake-up of all institutions of the state of Oklahoma, which was instigated by Governor Murray. In the shake-up last Friday of the Central Teachers College faculty, 10 members of the college staff were dismissed.

J. C. Crump, former Buffalo star, and assistant football and head basketball coach was dropped from the institution. Last winter Crump piloted the Teachers to second place in basketball in their conference, giving the institution the most outstanding team on the basketball court in the history of the college.

Reeds, should he accept, will succeed Coach C. W. Wantland, as head football coach and head of the physical education department. Wantland has been connected with the College at Edmond for 19 years. He was regarded as an outstanding football coach in Oklahoma. His teams have been consistent winners.

The present Buffalo gridiron mentor came to West Texas from the Oklahoma Southwestern Teachers College, Weatherford. He was a former Oklahoma State University football star and had served as assistant coach of the university. He had also coached the Colorado Aggies at Ft. Collins, Colo.

Coach Reeds stated Wednesday afternoon that he had not as yet accepted the offer at Central Teachers. He declared that he was undecided as to what he would do.

The announcement that Reeds had been named to the position as head coach at the Edmond institution came as a bombshell to the Buffalo fans, who have watched his work as coach here. He succeeded Os Eckhardt, who is now playing professional baseball. Last season the Buffs under Reeds, went through the season without a loss in the conference and missed the title only because they were held to a scoreless tie by Daniel Baker.

The Oklahoma position offers Reeds an increase of $800 a year more than he will receive here. The retiring coach at Edmond received $3800 a year, while the successor will receive only $3300.

Coaching Course in Basketball at College is Popular

Fifty men, basketball and track coaches, as well as playground supervisors of various high schools of Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico are enrolled in classes under Athletic Director S. D. Burton and Freshman Coach, Mitchell Jones at the College.

The present courses run throughout the first six weeks and it is expected that as many men will enroll for the football course under Coach Reeds for the second six weeks.

Basketball is the most popular this term with the 50 men. This course is being given in a very complete way. Four lecture periods per week are being given, with one period each week for demonstration work. The first demonstration period was given over to passing and shooting.

The manner with which the men went about the work would indicate that teams coached by them next year would be passers and shooters at least.

Coach Burton, whose basketball teams have been famous throughout the Southwest, has a system all his own, and his teams are known for their passing and shooting ability.

Will Try Bank Robbery Case at August Court

A number of subpoenas have been issued in the District Clerk's office during the past few days for witnesses to appear in the trial of Frank Crutchfield, alleged robber of the First National Bank of White Deer, on March 16, 1925. The case will come up for trial at the August term of district court.

Crutchfield, a son of a director and former president of the White Deer bank, was tried in Carson county on the robbery charge and convicted. He was sentenced to the penitentiary, but gained an insanity hearing and judged insane and confined to the state asylum. Later he escaped from the institution and the trial for the bank robbery was set for trial in Randall county on a change of venue.

It was thought that he went to New Mexico and could never be located by the officers. Recently he was discovered to be living on a farm in Deaf Smith county where he was arrested several days ago by Deputy Sheriffs Bob Barnett and A. C. Donnell. He is at liberty under a $5,000 bond.

JURY VERDICT FAVORS HALEY IN LIBEL SUIT

LONG SUIT ENDED WITH VER-DICT FOR DEFENDANTS.

Fred Spikes' Suit for $200,000 Damages Set Record for Lengthy Trials in West Texas.

The libel suit of Fred Spikes versus J. Evetts Haley and the trustees of the Capitol Reservation Lands company, which consumed 26 days in the trial, was brought to a close Saturday afternoon, when the jury returned a verdict favoring the defendants after being out over 24 hours. The suit marked the close of one of the most spectacular cases ever tried in the courts of West Texas and was by far the most long drawn out case ever tried in this section.

Spikes, a Lubbock business man, sought damages to the extent of $200,000 as a result of the publication of "The XII Ranch in Texas," a book written by Haley for the trustees of the ranch. Mention of the "Spikes Gang," in Chapter 8 of the book, was made in reference to alleged cattle rustling and outlawry. The chapter was titled, "A Long Fight for Law." The book was published in 1929 and the suit filed in the summer of 1930.

Suits asking damages amounting to $1,200,000 have been filed by the several members of the Spikes family. Jeff Spikes, a brother of Fred Spikes, has a suit against Haley and the trustees filed in Crosby county. Sam and Ernest Spikes, other brothers and residents of California, have filed suits in Lubbock, as have Mrs. Julia Ann Spikes, mother of the boys, Houston and Veltan Spikes, nephews of the plaintiff in the suit just closed, and Mrs. Freda Spikes Hunt, a niece.

Motion for a new trial is to be entered by the plaintiff's attorneys. It was announced by the Spikes' legal staff, following the reading of the verdict by the judge. The jury took the case shortly before noon Friday and returned the verdict Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The juryman took seven ballots before a verdict was reached. Only two of the six special issues were voted upon.

According to attorneys in the case this was the first time that an alleged history was used as the basis for a libel suit. The book was written by Haley on contract for the trustees of the owners of the old XII ranch. The volume was said to be a history of the ranch, dating from the time that the state of Texas gave title to 3,050,000 acres of land in West Texas to John V. Farwell and associates of Chicago for construction of the present state capital building at Austin.

It has been estimated that the cost of the suit including fees for filing motions will be more than $7,000 before the case reaches the civil appeals court, should it get that far. Nearly 250 witnesses and depositions were used during (Continued on last page)

Rotary Club Hears of Museum and the Spirit of Fellowship

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum building was presented Tuesday by directors of the Society to the Rotary Club, following which Rev. Ira Key, pastor of the Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo, talked on the subject of Fellowship.

L. F. Sheffy introduced the directors of the Historical Society, all of whom made short talks. T. D. Hobart of Pampa expressed great appreciation of the work which was being done in the interest of the pioneers.

H. E. Hoover of Canadian stated that nothing except death could overcome the spirit of Panhandle citizens. He was glad that so many school superintendents were present, in order that they bear a message to the school children of the Plains to help the Society even though it be only small amounts.

W. H. Patrick of Clarendon praised those who had worked for the museum, and the loyal citizens of Canyon who were contributing so much time and money in the name of the pioneers. He was proud that this would be the only museum building in the state of Texas, and that it was coming to the Plains.

Horace M. Russell of Amarillo believed that the museum came as a vote of confidence in the people of the Panhandle, and their representative in Austin.

Joe A. Hill of this city is the other director but did not make a statement at the meeting.

George Foster introduced Rev. Ira F. Key of Amarillo who spoke on Fellowship. He stated that the spirit of Rotary had taken the world a long way in the right direction. The brotherhood of man, as given by Rotary is leading to the brotherhood of nations, as shown by the announcement this week of President Hoover.

A number of visiting school superintendents were the guests of F. E. Savage, coming here to make plans for the Teachers Institute in September.

The following guests were present: Law Sone of Panhandle; P. C. Bennett, W. W. Atwater, A. C. Federer, Horace Russell, Ross Hatcher, Carl S. Making, Rev. Ira F. Key of Amarillo; W. T. Wilks, T. D. Hobart, John Hessey and Roy B. Fisher of Pampa; W. H. Patrick of Clarendon; C. H. Dillehay of Hereford; Price Scott of Floydada; C. R. E. Weaver of Silverton; L. F. Sheffy of Canyon.

Teachers Plan For Institute Here in September

Initial plans for the "Biggest" Panhandle Teachers Institute ever held were laid early this week. F. E. Savage, of the W. T. high school states. Members of the executive committee of the institute were here Tuesday conferring on matters pertaining to the institute which will be held here on September 3, 4, and 5th.

From all early indications Mr. Savage declared that the attendance this year will be larger than it has ever been. More of the larger city schools of the Panhandle will take part in the institute this fall. This is due, he says, to the fact that the state teachers association will meet in Amarillo in November and an attempt will be made to arouse a great lot of interest in the convention.

The institute this year will be more on the association type than those of the past. A number of strong speakers and prominent educators will appear on the program. An entertainment feature will be a trip to the Palo Duro Park.

ADDRESSES REALTORS

Representative Clyde W. Warwick spoke Wednesday before a luncheon meeting of the Amarillo Realty Board at the Capitol Hotel in Amarillo. Mr. Warwick discussed briefly the work of the 42nd session of the state legislature.

The wheat harvest and flood of golden grain in the Panhandle is well under way in Randall county as the hot dry weather is of help to farmers in harvesting their crop. The first wheat of the season was marketed in the county Saturday. Since then the marketing of grain has been increasing until now it is practically a steady stream at all of the elevators.

The grain is showing an improved yield over what was expected and the tests are running high. With the exception of a few first loads marketed, the tests have been running about 60 pounds.

The first load of the 1931 crop was brought to Canyon by White Griffiths. It was sold to the Felix Neff Elevator at 52 cents per bushel, bringing a premium of almost 20 cents per bushel. It tested 58 pounds and was making about 20 bushels to the acre. This wheat was combined Saturday and sold here Saturday afternoon.

Shortly after the first load of wheat was sold a second load was brought to Canyon. This was from the crop of Henrietta Burrus, 7 miles south of town. The wheat tested 63 pounds and brought 35 cents per bushel. This second load of wheat was marketed at the Neff elevator also.

Twenty-seven cars of grain in this county were reported to have been shipped or ready for shipment late Wednesday afternoon.

The Canyon Grain and Elevator company had three cars for shipment late yesterday. C. N. Plaster marketed the first load of wheat at that elevator Saturday afternoon. It tested 63 pounds.

The first load of grain sold this season to the Hardeman-King Elevator was marketed Wednesday afternoon, by G. M. Abbott. The wheat tested 62 pounds and sold for 35 cents per bushel, which was the market price over the entire county yesterday.

The Neff Elevator had loaded out 10 cars late yesterday. The reported yield in the vicinity surrounding Canyon was said to range from 15 to 30 bushels per acre.

Alden Mann, manager of the Ralph Switch Elevator, stated that six cars of grain had been loaded out there up to last night. The tests were running from 60 to 64 pounds and the yield was reported to be from 17 to 30 bushels.

The first load of wheat carried to the elevator at Umbarger was harvested by John A. Wilson and sold to the Great West Mill and Elevator Company, Monday. It tested about 63 pounds. That elevator had loaded out three cars of new wheat.

The Farmers Elevator at Umbarger purchased their first load of 1931 wheat Monday afternoon from Nick Hollenstein. They paid 35 cents per bushel and a 15 cent premium. The test was 61 pounds. The yield in that vicinity was reported to be running from 8 to 20 bushels and testing from 61 to 83 pounds. The Farmers Elevator had shipped out one car.

At the Farmers Grain Elevator of Haney, Inc., at Haney switch, received its first wheat Saturday from the farm of Moody and McCormick. The wheat tested 61 pounds and sold for 34 cents and a 16 cent premium. In that vicinity reported yields range from 15 to 35 bushels per acre.

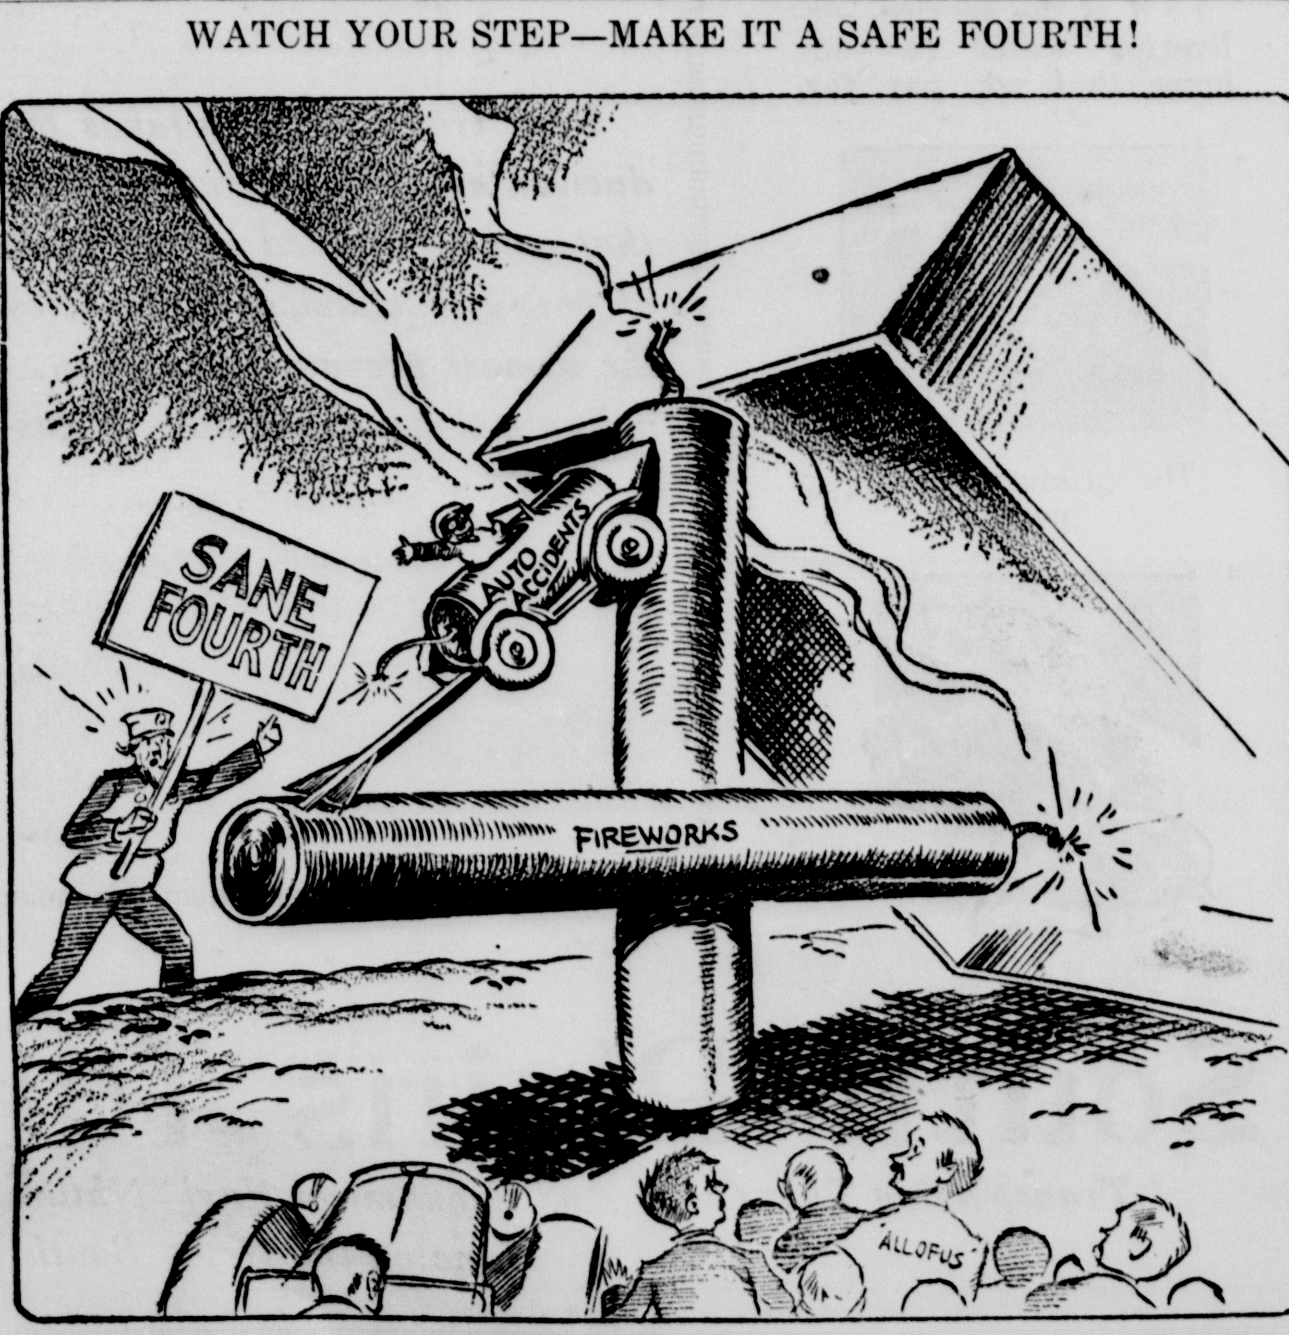

One car of grain had been shipped from the Ogg switch just south of Canyon, R. McGee, Santa Fe agent, reported Wednesday.

A TIMELY WARNING

Leave cigarettes at home while working in the harvest. A disastrous fire was narrowly averted on one of the Cayton farms in the Jewell community Wednesday. Owing to the persistent efforts of those present the fire was confined to an acre or two, but for a time the crop seemed doomed. Some contended the fire came from the exhaust on the engine, which is possible but unlikely.—Contributed.

Historians, and those interested in the writing of correct histories, are pleased with the results of the trial at Lubbock which was won by J. Evetts Haley in his history of the XIT ranch. The case was probably the longest in duration of any ever tried in this section of the state, and every phase of the history of the case was entered into by both the plaintiff and the defence. A history that is not true is of little use. If the historian is to be harassed in after years by descendants who think they should recover simply because a correct revelation was made as to men and the action of men, then writing history would become very unprofitable and few would be brave enough to venture into the field of recording facts as they found them. Perhaps some writers in recent years have made themselves very obnoxious by delving into the life of our past national heroes and disclosing facts which had as well remain unsaid. Perhaps there are few men who have not committed some act, under the pressure or impulse of the moment, which lead to life-long regret, and the publication of these deeds has been repulsive to our national pride and to our sense of honesty. Be that as it may, if a historian is to write, he should have the legal and moral right to record facts as he finds them, regardless of the consequences. If you are to be a historian, be sure you're right, then write.

The city commission has set July 20th for the election of the proposal to buy and establish a city park. The Wragge Park has been selected, and from sentiment so far expressed around the city, there seems little likelihood but that the bond issue will carry by a large majority. The price for the site is $8,000, and $2,000 is added to the bond issue for the purpose of making improvements. That will be cheap, indeed, for a 100-acre city park, so well located, and with the natural advantages which make the site one of the most desirable that any city in this section could possibly own for a city park. A full and free discussion of the merits of the park program is invited before the election on July 20th, in order that the voters may know exactly what they are doing in issuing the bonds.

Golf in its original form was considered the game for the rich, old men. Today it is the game of rich and poor alike, and is decidedly the game for the young men. Formerly the old men played to get young; now the young play to keep young. Around the municipal golf courses you will find ninety per cent of the players under forty-five years of age. The fact that local champions in most of the towns are exceedingly young men show that the game has undergone quite a change during the past few years. Furthermore, it is not much of a town which does not have a golf course, indicating that the city people have no longer a monopoly on this fast-becoming national pastime.

The drive is on for new members of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. There is no question as to the needs of a good live Chamber of Commerce organization in Canyon. Times are never so hard that a Chamber of Commerce organization should not be maintained. There is work to be done. Some one must do this work, and do it when it should be done. The Chamber of Commerce is the only agency which can effectively look after public work and every citizen in Canyon interested in the welfare of the city should be a member and contributor to the organization.

The talk of the government helping business is all the bunk. Governments are very poor business institutions. The United States government is more than a billion dollars in the red at this time; the state of Texas is handing out dry checks; hardly a school district pays its expenses year by year; most counties and cities run in the red, or close to the border line a greater part of the time. Governments are not expert business institutions, and those who expect the government to help them through trying times will be greatly disappointed.

Prediction now is that the Texas legislature will be called in a very short time to consider oil legislation. In view of the fact that under normal times the oil industry pays 56 per cent of all the state's taxes, and that the amount has been greatly decreased owing to the low price caused by flush production in Texas, and the further fact that the low price is causing the University of Texas to lose about $150,000 per month in its royalties, it may be seen that if it is possible to pass legislation to stabilize the oil industry it should be done.

Roger Babson states that economic conditions are better and improvement will be rapid. He is one of the noted economists in the United States and takes a world wide view of conditions. He predicted the depression, when everything was at the height of the boom. Panhandle folks are indeed fortunate in living in the one section of the United States which has felt the depression least.

Yes, it's hot, but talking about it doesn't cool the atmosphere.

Winston O'Keefe Is Winner of Speech Arts Scholarship

Adding another to the list of laurel-winners among W. T. students and ex-students for the year 1930-31, Winston O'Keefe, an ex-student of W. T. who has been doing advanced work in the Speech Arts College of Northwestern University, at Evanston, Illinois, was awarded a scholarship of $200 for his superiority in interpretative work.

The scholarship was presented by the Phi Beta Sorority, and carried an award of $400, which was divided between two people. Josephine Nicol, of Evanston received the other $200, as joint winner.

The scholarship was won in a contest with seventeen appointed competitors, among whom was the niece of Mrs. Agnes Smith, matron of Randall Hall. These appointees were selected on basis of their grades, which had to be average, in this line.

The contestants were required to deliver samples of three kinds of material, the lyric, serious prose, and comedy.

The scholarship will go to provide expenses for another year's work in the Speech College, with emphasis on the interpretative phase of the work.

"The Beau of Bath" "Gretna Green" and Given Thursday

As the first Dramatics Club program of the summer session, two plays, "Gretna Green" and "The Beau of Bath" were presented by the student casts. The first of the plays was directed by Inez Parker and the other by Katie Cornwell.

Both plays furnished excellent entertainment and dramatic practice for the audience and for those who took parts.

In "Gretna Green" Bertha Paltenge played the role of Aunt Avis, Esther Root that of Maria, her niece, and C. R. Bentley, that of Maria's father. The story was built around the ever-alive theme of the run-away marriage. Gretna Green is represented as a place where young couples may go to be married without the consent of guardians.

"The Beau of Bath" was a play built on reminiscence. Harry Kelly took the part of the Beau; Boone Lacwell that of Jepson, the servant; and Rosemary Lewis that of the Lady of the Portrait.

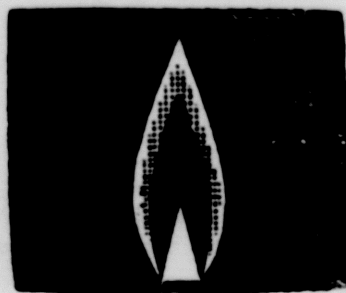

Next week the Dramatic Club will present another one-act comedy, "Wisdom Teeth," directed by Mrs. Frank Andrews.

"SERVICE"

The Reason for the Difference

The average price of gas at the well is 4½ cents.

The average price of domestic and industrial gas service is 35 cents.

Water at the source of supply is FREE

... it is the service—delivering water to your home that you pay for.

The product—6c per pound

... $1.00 for serving.

WHEN YOU LIGHT THE BURNER of your gas appliance and the flame springs to life instantly, you see results—comfort—convenience—not causes.

Seldom, if ever, do you see the Service agencies that make this ideal fuel supply possible. Pipe lines, gas wells and manpower, Service!—the combination of efforts that brings natural gas to your burner and which plays a major part in the cost of your fuel supply.

The average price of gas at the well is four and one-half cents per 1,000 cubic feet while the average price of NATURAL GAS SERVICE delivered to the customer's burner for domestic and industrial purposes is 35 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The former is fuel, the latter, a fuel Service that provides heat at the burner automatically, when and as you want it, without ashes, smoke, or soot, of the need for extra labor or storage. Back of the flame of your burner stands the Service of your gas company with its skilled employees and its facilities for delivering the gas. Service must be maintained! Service is what you are paying for!

The fact that your gas company must maintain the year round, at great expense, a pipe line of capacity to supply sufficient Natural Gas the coldest day of the year—even though this peak capacity is not required except on a few cold days in winter—is merely one of the items of this responsibility called Service. A large number of employees and large capital resources are continually engaged in maintaining this dependable fuel supply. Drilling, the laying of pipe lines, telegraph lines, production, transmission and distribution activities represent a large investment in materials, equipment and personnel.

Your Gas Company takes pride in the fact that it pioneered the production and transportation, in this section, of the only available fuel that can be utilized by the consumer without special handling or the use of costly mechanical accessories. Realizing our responsibility, we take the utmost precaution to assure you permanent fuel satisfaction by providing a dependable flow of gas—regardless of the weather.

MYRTLE MAY WHEELER WEDS LYMAN MOLYNEUX, JUNE 12

Miss Myrtle May Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wheeler, and Lyman Molyneux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Molyneux, were united in marriage in an impressive afternoon ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Martin on the Panhandle Highway, Friday, June 12, at 4:30 o'clock. Dr. Roy C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First Christian Church, performed the ceremony.

Palms, roses and larkspur, attractively arranged in the large rooms of the Martin home furnished an appropriate setting for the nuptials.

The bride was charming in a gown of tea-rose chiffon with harmonizing accessories and carrying a large bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. H. G. Patterson, who wore orchid gandy.

The groom was attended by Leon Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Molyneux are graduates of the Amarillo High School. Mrs. Molyneux attended the college here during the regular session of 1927-28, and has taught in the Whittenburg school for the past two years.

THE RAILROADS' PROBLEM

If you like to know why railroad executives have a habit of looking worried lately, consider the following, culled from the current issue of the Chesapeake & Ohio Lines Magazine.

Last year the average American took 5.8 trips on passenger trains. As long ago as 1890—the earliest year for which such figures are available—he took 7.8 trips annually. Last year he traveled only 219 miles by rail—the lowest figure since 1904. Furthermore, the total number of passengers carried by all American railroads last year was smaller than the total carried in 1904, although the population of the country is 50 per cent larger now than it was then.

Those figures show pretty graphically how the decline in passenger traffic is hitting the railroads. The automobile and the bus are proving deadly competitors. Small wonder that railroad executives are looking worried.

Locals Win in Baseball Game With Amarilloans

The Canyon baseball team managed by Carl Laughery and Alton Key, defeated the Earl Wyatt team of Amarillo by a 20-7 score on the local diamond Sunday afternoon. The win Sunday gave the local team an average well over the 600 average for this season.

Wethered, a new player playing for the first time with the Canyon team, hit three home runs and one triple in six times to bat.

It is being considered to play several games at the Palo Duro Park during the rest of the summer. However nothing definite has been done so far.

In soliciting financial support last week, members of the team met with response from the following business men: Wm. Schmitz, Ray V. Davis, A. E. Terry, H. A. Brown, N. E. McIntire, Levi Cole, W. A. New Club Has Fishing Trip Held Near City

A new club has been organized on the campus of the West Texas State Teachers College. The Palo Duro Hiking Club is open to the entire student body and faculty, the only requirement for membership being a love for the out-of-doors.

The initial outing of the organization was held last week when fifty-six fishermen wandered optimistically up and down the banks of a stream near Canyon. The membership of the club has grown until it is one of the largest organizations sponsored by the college, although it is only a week old.

Dr. Albert Barnett and Professor S. H. Condon were the instigators and organizers of the new club, which has suddenly become one of the most popular on the campus.

LAW AND CORRUPTION

Remarking upon the tendency toward the regulation of every phase of human conduct by law, a recent speaker quoted an aphorism of Cicero: "In the most corrupt nation you have the most laws."

There probably has never been in all history a people burdened with so many laws as exist in the United States today. Whether we have the most corrupt nation is a matter of opinion, but heaven knows it is bad enough.

Still the reformers are clamoring for more laws. Where it will all end no man can foretell. Every new law for the regulation of this and that adds to the battalions of officeholders already feeding at the public crib.

Thoughtful men are beginning to realize the seriousness of the situation. Only by an aroused public sentiment can we hope to stop the orgy of lawmaking and law-breaking which threatens our social structure and makes of liberty a mockery.

About the only consolation the average man gets out of life when he reaches middle-age is that a lot of things could be worse than they are.

Pajamas Appear in the Open

YOU CAN DANCE OR WALK OR PLAY GOLF IN COMFORT SINCE SKIRTS ARE DIVIDING THEIR INTEREST

BY HARRIET

PAJAMAS certainly sway the mode this summer. If you have never worn them, you can't possibly know how comfortable they are. Moreover, they have the ability to add a certain lilt to a psychology that may be run-down. They are restful, and that's something worth while.

The beach pajamas and the lounging pajamas are now so ubiquitous that there is no doubting their authenticity.

Two other types of the divided skirt, though, appear now as possible heights of fashion by the end of summer. These are the dance pajamas and the divided skirt for golf or tennis, or even for walking and other informal wear.

For dancing, the first pajamas this spring showed such full legs that they looked precisely like skirts and only movement revealed their cut. Now, however, pajamas have come out into the open. New dance pajamas have fairly straight legs, with ruffles around each which emphasize, rather than conceal, the trouser cut.

For youngsters they are cute as can be. But it still remains to be seen whether sophisticated women take to them for the ballroom floor. But if you still have youth in the hollow of your hand, this is a summer to revel in the new mode and you should dance in them to your heart's content.

An especially charming little suit is made of printed durenne net in chartreuse and black design. There are little leaping gazelles in the print which somehow or other are tremendously appropriate for this type of costume. The frock is cut with a fitted bodice, a brigand's sash of the chartreuse tone and long, ruffled trousers, with the ruffles graduated until the lowest ones are quite deep. There is a little bolero jacket with long sleeves topping it, of black sheer durenne, lined with chartreuse so that the whole costume is one of charming beauty.

NEW for the golf links or tennis court is a divided skirt in white jersey which can be cut to mid-calf length or shorter, depending on the needs. There is a polo shirt of open-mesh for the top of this outfit and onto it you add one of the new well-pocketed cardigan coats of colored jersey, with brass buttons, clear up the front to the throat line.

All your steps are in the right direction when you dance in pajamas of printed chartreuse and black durenne, left, with their leaping gazelles and jungle blossoms. The divided skirt in white jersey, right, with its well-pocketed cardigan will help you to go around in much better style, when it comes to golf. It is from Best and Company.

Not only are both of these costumes new and catchy, but they foretell a fashion for fall that everybody may be wearing. It is not too far-fetched to contemplate neat tailored suits with tricky divided skirts that look like one but have the ease of trousers. France is getting these suits out in shanting right this minute, for summer wear. Topped with a frilly little blouse and a cute fitted jacket, there is nothing the least bit manish or unbecoming in them.

As for the pajamas for the dance floor, fall will show increasing numbers of these. Unless you are tremendously fat and all of 40, it is worth while taking a shot at them. After 40, let your figure be your guide. For certainly they are incongruous on a very stout figure.

WE CAN BUT WE DON'T

It has been said by men familiar with the dairy industry that we in the Southwest can produce cream 25 per cent cheaper than they do in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. We have heard no one claim that we do produce cheaper. There may be individual cases of low cost of production, but the average cost is above that in the older dairy States.

The Southwest does not have all the advantages for dairy production. We do not produce the tonnage of feed per acre, and our long, hot summers are only a partial offset for our mild winters. Our natural advantages, however, might prove sufficient to give us a lower production cost, all other things being equal. There is the rub. To produce at a lower cost than they do in the older dairy regions we must have as good cows as they have; we must produce as much of our feedstuffs as economically as they do, and we must know how to feed. In addition, we must learn more about the value of quality of production and be able to meet all competition.

The Southwest has a splendid future as a factor in the dairy industry, provided, of course, that we are willing to breed up our herds by the use of the best sires obtainable; by testing our cows and culling out herds; by producing our feed stuffs and by feeding properly and according to the production needs of each animal. So much for production. To market what we produce is another matter. To insure profitable markets we should produce quality and market only the best of what we produce.

When our dairymen and others who are attempting to engage in the industry, if only with two or more cows, show their willingness to pay closer attention to the minutest detail as regards production and marketing, we shall be producing 25 per cent cheaper than the Great Lakes States.—Farm and Ranch.

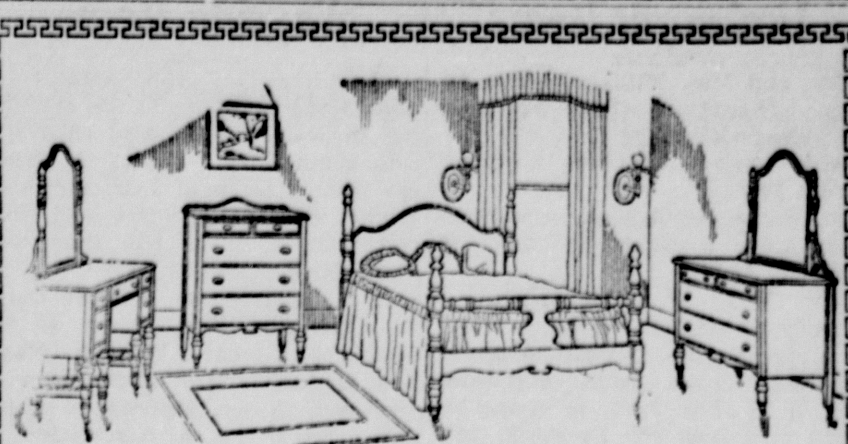

VISITING STATE PARKS

A report issued by the Department of Interior states that nearly 45,000,000 persons were registered as visitors at state parks last year. The figures record the unusual attraction the park system presents as enlarged from the national reservations by state inclosures.

There are 300 of the state parks with an area of approximately 3,000,000 acres. Few states remain that have not set to work seriously to preserve either the historic interest or natural beauty of given areas within their boundaries.

The obvious interest of the tourist furnishes an opportunity for Texas. This state has encouraged the state park idea on perhaps too large scale. Under comparatively recent legislation, it has been made the recipient of several score locations for ultimate state parks. In the embarrassment of riches, it has done little toward development.

There are only five, all old-fashioned parks that can be regarded as official state parks now. Nor should the state, at least for the present, make an effort to realize on the proudly explained local opportunity each site affords. There is every reason, however

Sure Price Means a Lot Today

The public wants bargains, certainly; but unless there is recognizable quality at a low price, it is no bargain. Our buyer has just attended the summer furniture market in Chicago and all other furniture has been marked down to the lowest market prices. New furniture bought at the June market will be arriving soon.

Come in and pick out the suite or odd piece of furniture you have been wanting. Now is the best time to refurnish your home; prices will not be lower.

for Texas to concentrate on a few locations, where nature still preserves the natural beauty of the land. In sites such as the Palo Duro Canyon, the Davis Mountains, and Caddo Lake section offer, it is not only possible, but practicable to create state parks. These should be served by a connected highway system. When that is done, a large part of America's touring 45,000,000 will come to Texas and many of them will remain to locate.—Dallas News.

OLD MAN BELLACHE

According to investigations made by the United States interior department, four out of every ten of the American people suffer from various digestive diseases. When one considers the misery that such troubles cause, and how they are usually due to some form of imprudence, it seems singular that people will do the things that bring on these troubles.

The American people gobble their food. They dump in the eats as if they were shoveling coal into a furnace. It disappears down their throats in great and insoluble chunks, showing scarcely any tooth marks. It is no wonder that this poorly prepared stuff raises ructions after it has gone down the little red way.

People who want to live long and comfortable lives will learn to control their eating habits better. If they don't, Old Man Bellache, to use the homely old expression, will have much to say to them.

This time next year the band wagon, steam roller and water wagon will be all greased up and ready to go.

There are moments when we are almost forced to believe that the only contented people are in the cemetery.

The average woman doesn't mind being kept awake by her husband talking in his sleep, providing he talks plainly.

An honest man never claims to be—he just is.

HILL ATTENDS REGENTS' MEET IN GALVESTON

SEES INTERNATIONAL BEAUTIES; BELIEVES CONTEST IS GOOD MOVEMENT.

President J. A. Hill returned Friday from Galveston where he attended the annual meeting of the Board of Texas Teachers College Regents and Teachers' College Presidents, during last week.

President Hill says that the report of the meeting is not organized for publication at this time.

An unusual and interesting phase of the Galveston trip was its conjunction with the International Beauty contest which was held in Galveston during the same week. President Hill says that seeing the contest has entirely changed his attitude toward such affairs. He, with the others who were there for the Regents' meeting, took the opportunity of getting a new slant on just how such contests are conducted, and what they mean as an evidence of internationalism.

President Hill and several others of the teachers college presidents stayed at the Hotel Galves while there, the hotel which was occupied by the European girls entering the contest. Arriving there Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, President Hill had the opportunity of seeing the girls and meeting many of them, before the finals of the contest came off that night. He and President W. H. Morelock, of Sul Ross, declare that they had picked the winner long before the finals: Miss Belgium, who that night was proclaimed Miss Universe by the judges.

Dr. Hill states that one of the most striking things about the whole contest for him was the fact that the European girls could not be distinguished from those who were Americans. They were all dressed conventionally in American costumes, their complexions differed no more than is usual among American girls. The only means of telling them one from another was by their speech. When talking to Miss Universe the next day, President Hill was forced to convey his congratulations to her by means of his facial expression and speech tone, because she was unable to understand what he said. France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Norway, Denmark, Belgium and several others were among the nations which were represented in this great contest, which President Hill looks upon as a good internationalizing movement.

President Hill believes that the contest is more nearly a contest in personality than in beauty alone. "So far as beauty goes," he says, "we have just as beautiful girls right here in W. T. as many of those who were leaders in that contest." Miss Belgium was unique in that from among a majority of blondes, she, a brunette, was chosen as Miss Universe. "She has gray eyes, dark hair, and a very sweet, intelligent face, expressive of a strong personality," declared Dr. Hill, when questioned as to his personal impression of the winner.

It is interesting to note that one of the judges was Mr. Mead, the artist who visited W. T. during the past year, to paint the Indian handmade cart belonging to J. Evetts Haley, which stands in the first hall. Mrs. Mead, wife of the artist, was Matey McAfee, who at one time lived in Canyon. Her father is now manager of the Green Brothers Furniture Company in Amarillo.

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

When you visit your physician for your periodic health examination, one of the very first things he asks you to do is to open your mouth wide, and to say "Ah." He is examining the delicate lining of your throat. "Ah!" There is not a man or woman who could even make this simple sound, if in the throat there were no Adam's Apple. For your Adam's Apple is your larynx—the voice box containing your vocal chords. And what a delicate piece of Nature's handiwork the Adam's Apple is. A slight cold—even a tiny particle lodged in the throat—and our voice often grows husky. In acute cases, we may even lose our voice for several days. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants—Reach for a LUCKY instead—remember, LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that through its exclusive "TOASTING" process expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder 20,679 American physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating. LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

COMING TO OUR SENSES

By Bruce Catton

Ever since American builders discovered that by using steel framework they could make buildings far taller and lighter than any kind that had ever been built before, architects have been putting in their spare time speculating about "the city of tomorrow."

Sketches have been drawn and books have been written and in most of them we are shown a rather terrifying conglomeration of cloud-scrappers, with elevated sidewalks, hanging gardens, four-deck streets and tall spires that would make the Empire State of Chrysler buildings look puny.

This, they have told us, is what we are coming to. This is what the city of the not-so-distant future will be like.

Now, however, comes Frank Lloyd Wright, whom many consider the best of all American architects, to declare that these prophets are all mistaken. In a new book, "Modern Architecture," Mr. Wright predicts that instead of an era of super-cities and skyscrapers we shall have an era of smaller cities and fewer skyscrapers; and he paints a picture that is, to say the least, rather more attractive than the one we are used to.

His idea is simple. The skyscraper, he says in effect, is a noble achievement; but it must be judged, finally, by its affect on the lives of the people who live in and around it. What do the skyscrapers of today do for us? They cramp us, they give us unbearable congestion, they confine us to city pavements, they force our lives into restricting moulds. Judged on that basis the skyscraper, like the skyscraper city, is a failure.

Indeed, Mr. Wright believes that the city as we know it today will die. Instead of huddling close together in a small space, men will spread out over the countryside. There will still be cities, but they will merely be places where men work; most of the time they will be empty. There will still be tall buildings, but they will be widely separated, each with acres of ground about it.

Rapid transit—the auto, the fast train, the airplane—will make all of this possible. People will go back to the land. The ordinary house will have an acre of ground around. The entire country, in fact will be "a well-developed park—buildings standing in it, tall or wide, with beauty and privacy for every one."

There is a great deal of encouragement in Mr. Wright's vision. And yet, after all, he is merely saying that men will come to their senses and will use their new mechanical devices to make life happier and freer. Will not succeeding generations wonder why it took people so long to reach this conclusion?

tinction altogether fascinating.—

ished quartet, played with fervor, impeccable intonation and an extraordinary musical understanding of the linear, harmonic and dynamic substance, two movements from two of Bach's solo sonatas for violin. This proved to be a happy innovation on a program already rich with two of the most inspired quartets Beethoven and Mozart ever wrote, and it is no wonder that last night's audience accorded the young violinist an ovation that must have thrilled him.—L'Echo

A fine performance of the St.
Saens concerto for violin and piano was that of Mr. Raymon Stuhl last night in the Volkshaus Schule Sael, Neu Koln. Professor of a large and even tone of ravishing quality combined with a warm temperament and sure technique, Mr.
Stuhl is bound to follow this first Berlin success with others as satisfying.—Berliner Tageblatt, March 1929.

It is a pleasure to give an accounting for as fine a program rendered yesterday afternoon by Mr. Raymon Stuhl, American Violinist. A refreshing sincerity in his attitude towards his art is partly responsible for the scholarly reading given such sincerely-written music as Boccherini's B flat Major Concerto and the D Minor sonata by Corelli. Interesting personally, he has an equipment which will bring him far—an appealing tone, fine intonation, and ample musical understanding.—Mannheimer Volks Zeitung, Dec. 1928.

France

Last night's appearance in Salle Gaveau was the second in Paris for M. Markwood Holmes, a young American, resident here since 1925.
He is particularly well-equipped technically and musically for the concerto presented—the D Major Beethoven—and with most admirable restraint and feeling for its simplicity of outline and mysterious significance he attained heights of unusual brilliance and emotional power. It is evident that he has played often with orchestral accompaniment and with an unfaltering memory was entirely at ease and master of every situation a work of this magnitude presents.—Paris, Le Matin, April 1927.

Kansas City Press Notices.

It was good to notice that Alberta Bohm's appearance revealed she is a welcome addition to the list of our worthwhile pianists. She played the Mozart concerto with intelligence and good taste and with a sureness that was most refreshing.—K. C. Journal-Post.

Mozart is all too rare in these days of musical extremes, but Miss Alberta Bohm's performance in one of that composer's concertos was consolation to one who might almost believe that the art of playing Mozart is forgotten.—K. C.
Journal-Post.

Miss Alberta Bohm's D minor Mozart concerto is, of itself, one of the loveliest in the literature.
She played it without distortions, in a thoroughly workman-like manner, and with excellent tone.—K. C.
Star.

Brown Schoenheit's flute added much to the effect of the florid pieces, particularly "The Wrenn" by Benedict. There are many flutists, but few to compete in musicianship with the Kansas City Artist.—K. C. Star.

As large an audience as Horner Hall could hold gathered Wednesday night to pay homage to Markwood Holmes, violinist. It was his first recital, following four years spent in study and concertizing on foreign shore. The introductory Sonata in A minor by Pasquelli with its arrangements by Ysaye was particularly arresting. There was unvelled strength in the large and Mr. Holmes' keenly intuitive style brought to the minuetto a delightful interpretation. Chaus-son's Poeme and Prokofieff's Concerto in D showed an artist's command of technique and style. There was delicacy of imagination in the polished phrases of the Poeme, the repose of which suggested the telling of an old tale. The concerto was played with verve, taste and musical understanding and proved Mr. Holmes a true interpreter of the ultra-modern idiom. The closing Rondo Capriccioso by St.
Saens was elevated to a point of interest by the individual artistry of the violinist, who is to be commended for his simplicity of bearing. There is quiet dignity in his stage deportment and a charming refinement in his playing. Alberta Boehm was a most competent accompanied, playing with taste and discretion.—K. C. Independent.

One learns more and more of the self-effacing musician with each appearance of Mr. Holmes. He possesses the refined taste of the scholar. With sincere regard for the composer's intent, the violinist gave a masterly reading of the difficult Brahms concerto with candenza by Joachim.—K. C. Independent.

Plan Drive for Funds to Erect Fair Coliseum

An international coliseum, the largest of its kind in the Southwest, seating 20,000 people, with an arena large enough for a football game, is to be erected for the Tri-State Fair in time for the opening of the 1931 Exposition.

The coliseum will be known as the International Coliseum and will be formally opened by President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, who has announced that he will make every effort to be present. Four governors have already accepted invitations to participate in the dedicatory exercises.

Under the plan of financing the erection of the building, each of the 144 people who made the trip to Mexico on the Globe-News special to invite President Rubio to attend the Tri State Fair, has been named chairman of a committee and will be asked to name 50 sub-committeemen. Each committeeman will be asked to dispose of two tickets to the dedicatory program at $5 each. These tickets are to be sold before July 15 in order that the building may be completed in time for the 1931 fair.

The names and addresses of every person buying one of these advance tickets will be placed on permanent tablets in the building. All funds will be placed in trust until sufficient money has been raised to erect the building.

All expenses of the ticket selling campaign are being paid by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Wilbur C. Hawk, president, and other officials of the fair are now busy contracting for talent to be used in the dedicatory program and assert that it will be the finest show ever offered in the Southwest.

In addition to the big features to be offered, the entire fair will pass in review before President Rubio, the four governors and other dignitaries who will attend.

Every cow, every pig, every tractor, every automobile, everything on exhibition in the fair will move through the giant arena. In terse words, the Tri-State Fair will be brought to the people of the Southwest and exhibited to them as they sit in comfortable seats in the Southwest's largest coliseum and the biggest building of its kind owned by any fair association in the world.

The International Coliseum will be 540 by 320 feet outside measurements. The arena will be 400 feet long and 180 feet wide.

The roof will be of the patented Lamella type, now used extensively in coliseums and auditoriums. There will not be a post in the entire building to mar the view of any spectator.

Mrs. Weaver Writes Article for June Issue of 'Outlook'

In the June issue of the Texas Outlook appears an article entitled "Educating the Heart." The piece is written by Mrs. Alice R. Weaver, an ex-student of W. T. Mrs. Weaver has been for the past two years primary teacher in the Stinnett Public School.

Mrs. Weaver, whose home is in Canyon, attended W. T. last summer. She is not in school this summer.

The article in the Outlook deals with need for the teaching of ethics in the public schools of America, and skillfully shows the influence such teaching would eventually have on both domestic and public life. Members of Parent-Teachers Associations and Child-Study circles will find valuable material in this treatment of a vital problem, and need in the schools and homes of today.

Canyon Resources Are Discussed at Lubbock by Cash

Harvey Cash, city secretary returned Tuesday night from Lubbock where he had attended the Texas Municipal League which was in session in its annual convention during Monday and Tuesday.

During the two-day session, Mr. Cash gave a short talk on Canyon and her resources. The following address was delivered by the city secretary:

The City of Canyon, with a population of two thousand, eight hundred and twenty-one, is the county seat of Randall County, located sixteen miles southwest of Amarillo on the main line of the Santa Fe railroad. At Canyon, the Santa Fe line from the south joins the main line going west. Eight passenger trains daily give the city railroad facilities from all points. There are also twenty passenger busses daily, radiating in every direction.

Canyon was organized in 1891 by its founder, L. G. Conner. It was incorporated in 1909, when its first bond issue was voted for water and sewer purposes. The city today has practically one hundred per cent sewer service.

Canyon has a natural drainage, being located between two arms of the Palo Duro Canyon. It has an elevation of 3,555 feet and an average rainfall of 22 inches annually.

The water at Canyon is one of the city's greatest natural assets. The water comes from water-bearing sands three to five hundred feet below the earth's surface. It is ninety-nine per cent pure, according to chemical analysis, and is as soft as rain water. The water-works are owned by the city. There are about eight hundred water users and the city is one hundred per cent metered.

Canyon's light, power and heat are furnished by the Texas Utilities Co., and the West Texas Gas Co., both corporations rendering efficient service.

Canyon has the Commission form of government, the governing body consisting of a Mayor and two Commissioners. All other offices of the City are appointive.

The total bonded indebtedness of the city is $73,000 with $2,550 in the Interest and Sinking Fund. The assessed valuation for the year 1930 was $2,081,813, with a tax rate of $1.00 on the $100.00 valuation.

Canyon has six and one-half miles of paving, giving a paved street to every business house and public building in the city.

Canyon has the distinction of being the educational center of North Panhandle. Besides a public school system, with new high school and ward school buildings, Canyon is the seat of the West Texas State Teachers College, one of the largest teachers colleges in the state. This is a Senior College of first rank, conferring B. A. and B. S. degrees of recognized quality—more than one hundred such degrees are conferred annually. Graduate work toward a Masters degree is being offered this summer session for the first time. Between 2,500 and 3,000 students attend the college annually. It has a faculty of 70 members in 22 different departments. The valuation of the college plant is estimated at $1,500,000.

Canyon has more than half a million dollars invested in new churches, and all the leading denominations are housed in beautiful buildings.

Canyon is surrounded by points of unusual scenic beauty, the Palo Duro Canyon being just east of the city about eight miles. In close proximity to Canyon are club-grounds of especial interest. Two of the leading churches have their summer encampments in Ceta Canyons, southeast of the city of Canyon.

The typical western spirit of friendliness and goodwill, which pervades all the towns of the Panhandle, is also found in large measure in Canyon and this, coupled with the refining, cultural influences of the college life, makes our little city a delightful place for the establishment of homes.

put your Telephone on Half-pay during Vacation

You'll save money... and spare yourself inconvenience when you return.

The Rumseys are going vacationing.

The milk's been stopped, the ice man has been called off, and the Man Who Delivers the Newspaper has been instructed to bring no more until further notice.

But the telephone will be left at home, drawing full pay in an empty house!

Something should be done about this!

Vacation rates for idle residence telephones

One solution (provided you're planning a vacation of 30 days or more) is to place your telephone on vacation half-rates while you are away.

It's a convenient way to save money. And—this to folks who sometimes have their telephones taken out—it spares you inconvenience on your return.

That's because:

1. You pay just half the regular rate.
2. Service is reconnected quickly after you return—usually within 24 hours after you notify us.
3. You keep your present telephone number. (You'd lose it if you had your telephone removed!)
4. Your name remains in the telephone book.

If you wish, while you are away we will refer your calls to another telephone—that of relatives, for instance.

Vacation rates are available for periods of more than 30 days. They apply only to residence telephones—not to business or rural service.

MATCHES FOR RUSSIA

The danger of Moscow may be causing some of our statesmen to lie awake nights with fear, but the United States Army, nevertheless, does its part to help the finances of the Soviets by buying all of its matches from Russian manufacturers.

Officials of the army quartermaster corps point out that they are compelled by rules to buy Russian matches—because they can buy more of them more cheaply than any other kind.

This excellent little object lesson illustrates the crux of the whole matter. If, in the long run, the Russians are consistently able to undersell their capitalistic European competitors, the Communist regime will probably endure. If they fail, it won't. For this modern commercialized and industrialized world offers its greatest prizes to the man or the nation that can produce goods at the lowest expense.

What a world. By the time a man has achieved success and is able to take two hours for lunch at noon the doctor limits him to a glass of buttermilk.

Some women complain their husbands are in the second childhood while others contend that their husbands have never gotten past their first.

Haley Suit

THREE NEW SUITS ARE FILED BY SPIES FAMILY

Three new damage suits, each in the sum of $200,000, were filed in the United States and 72nd State Judicial district courts in Lubbock Tuesday, against the trustees of the Capitol Reservation Lands Company and J. Evetts Haley as the outgrowth of the publication of "The XIT Ranch in Texas."

The suits were filed by Fred and Oscar Caudill, of Pictown, New Mexico and Mrs. Lillie Spikes, of Lubbock. The Caudill Brothers filed their action in Federal Court and Mrs. Spikes, wife of Fred Spikes, filed her case in the state court. All three allege libel basing action on the chapter of the XIT's book entitled "A Long Fight for Law." The additional suits made a total of nine separate actions, seeking a total of $1,800,000 in alleged damages.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF FRIENDS

President Hoover in dedicating a memorial to the late President Harding, said: "Warren Harding had a dim realization that he had been betrayed by a few of the men whom he trusted, by men who he believed were his devoted friends."

Speaking of the last days of the former president, he said: "We came to know that there was a man whose soul was being seared by a great disillusionment. We saw him gradually weaken not only from physical exhaustion, but from mental anxiety."

Mr. Hoover quoted Harding's last words: "We do rise to heights at times when we look for the good rather than the evil in others."

The nation will ponder over the dedicational speech of Mr. Hoover's for several days. The scandals that broke under the administration of President Harding have not been cleared in the years following his death. As a cabinet member during Harding's administration, Mr. Hoover was at the bedside of the dying president and should be in a position to know of the affairs.

In this complicated society of today, we must trust many things to our friends. If they fail us, it brings disgrace upon us. When trusted friends betray, it brings heartaches upon those who have had confidence in them.

Friends who will not misuse powers entrusted to them by their fellow beings are priceless. We all have a few in whom we believe, but sometimes we make mistakes.

In the old days a ford was where you crossed the river. Now it's every place you try to cross the street.

Many a man who arises with a grouch in the morning usually goes from bed to worse.

There is always consolation in the knowledge that other folks have troubles worse than ours.

VALUE OF HABIT CHANGE

An encouraging sign of progress of late is the appearance of an ability on the part of many to recognize habits which are harmful to their progress and well-being and change them for better.

Modern athletics are offering constant reminders of this ability. The consistent winners in sports events not only show adaptability in this way, but much of their success in actual competition hinges on their faculty for change in methods of performing. The demand for flexibility exists in other walks of life, even if it is less obvious and preeminent.

George Bernard Shaw, the world-famous British playwright and author, reveals the force of this reasoning in an account of his own habit changes. "I noticed in my youth," said he, "that my father ate indiscriminately, consuming large quantities of meat; that he smoked all day, drank alcohol and took no form of exercise. I saw that most men have the same habits as my father and most men are failures."

From that day Shaw ate no meat. He forewent not only alcohol, but also tea and coffee, which he regards as only slightly less harmful. He constructed a revolving cabin in which he could follow the beneficent beams of the sun through all the daylight hours. He also saw to it that he had plenty of exercise.

Shaw is regarded by many as an extremist, but his record of accomplishments and his physical well-being at 70 are convincing arguments.

THE CHILD PROBLEM

Interesting discussions concerning child training marked a conference on the subject at the University of Iowa. It appeared to be the consensus of the educators present that more rational methods and less sentimentality should be employed in dealing with the young.

Properly understood and properly dealt with, the tendency to independence which characterizes the youth of the present is not to be deplored, according to some of the speakers. Children must be led to do things because they are right and beneficial for them, not simply because someone lays down arbitrary rules.

Mrs. G. C. Woodhouse, head of the Bureau of Economics in Washington, declared that "the church and the law have lost their soul because both are so bound by prejudice that they are out of touch with modern needs," and that "religionists must revise their doctrines to meet modern problems."

Summed up, the conclusion appeared to be that children of the present and future must be governed, if at all, by principles which appeal to their intelligence rather than to their emotions.

THE ALL-DAY SUCKER

For some reason it is rather heartening to learn that the old-fashioned all-day sucker is still America's most popular candy. Members of the National Confectioners' Association, convening in Chicago, report that the all-day sucker still sells in greater quantities than any other kind of candy.

Just why this should encourage anybody is not quite clear. Perhaps it is because of mankind's inherent conservatism. In an age when so many of the customs of former generations are being tossed into the discard, it is somehow comforting to learn that children still go for the all-day sucker. Not all of the old ways have vanished!

Farming pays in Randall county.

A vacation is something that breaks the monotony—and also the man who takes it.

Be careful what you preach, so that you will be able to practice it if the occasion arises.

Although it requires several hundred nuts to hold an automobile together, one can drive it.

Another nice feature about listening to a sermon over the radio is that the preacher can't glare at you as though he was accusing you of doing the very thing he is telling his congregation not to do.

This is the season of the year when the early fisherman beats the early bird to the worm.

Thrills to your very soul in

"LAUGHING SINNERS" with Neil Hamilton

A soul searing role for beautiful Joan Crawford. She is hurt in love, tossed aside by her man. When she has found tranquility in other activities, he comes to claim her. And she cannot resist him! No wonder the stage play "Torch Song" was a Broadway stage hit! It's a grand drama and in talks it's even more exciting.

Others in cast
